

The big corporations have enough of my business. I subscribed to XM so that I could receive quality programming. Now you are proposing taking away some of the value that I pay for by denying me access to some of the services that I have chosen to receive.